REAL ESTATE COMMISSION

Consent for Dual Agency

(In this form, the word "seller" includes "landlord", "buyer" includes "tenant", and "purchase" or "sale" includes "lease.")

Important Considerations Before Making a Decision About Dual Agency

- A dual agent does not exclusively represent either the seller or buyer and there may be a conflict of interest because the interests of the seller and buyer may be different or adverse.
- As a dual agent, the real estate company does not owe undivided loyalty to either the seller or buyer.

When Dual Agency May Occur

The possibility of dual agency arises when:

- The buyer is interested in a property listed by a real estate company; and
- The seller's agent and the buyer's agent work for that same real estate company.

Before the buyer and seller can proceed to be represented by a dual agent, they must both sign a Consent For Dual Agency. If they have previously signed a Consent For Dual Agency, they must affirm their consent for the sale of the particular property to a particular buyer.

Your Choices Concerning Dual Agency

When a dual agency situation in fact arises, the buyer and seller have the following options:

- 1. Consent in writing to dual agency. If all parties consent in writing, the real estate company (the "dual agent") will assign one real estate agent from the company to represent the seller or landlord (the seller's "intra-company agent") and another agent from the company to represent the buyer or tenant (the buyer's "intra-company agent"). Intra-company agents may provide the same services to their clients as exclusive seller's or buyer's agents, including advising their clients as to price and negotiation strategy.
- 2. Do not consent to dual agency. If either the buyer or the seller, or landlord or tenant, refuses to consent in writing to the dual agency, the real estate company must terminate the agency agreement for that particular property with either the buyer or seller, or both. If the seller's agreement is terminated, the seller must then either represent him or herself or arrange to be represented by an agent from another real estate company. If the buyer's agreement is terminated, the buyer or tenant may choose to enter into a written buyer agency agreement with an agent from a different company. Alternatively, the buyer or tenant may choose not to be represented by an agent from his or her own but simply to receive assistance from the seller's agent, from another agent in that company, or from a cooperating agent from another company.
